Now Voters Can Reject All Candidate in India

NEW DELHI: In a landmark judgment on 27 September 2013, the Supreme Court for the first time allowed voters to cast negative vote by pressing a button saying none of the candidates is worthy of his vote. The SC asked the Election Commission to provide None Of The Above (NOTA) button on EVMs (Electronic Voting Machine) and ballot papers. The apex court said the right to vote and the 'right to reject' are both part of basic right of voters. "When a large number of voters will press NOTA button, it will force political parties to choose better candidates. Negative voting would lead to systemic change in polls," the apex bench observed. The bench also observed that implementation of NOTA option was akin to 'abstain option' given to MPs and MLAs during voting in respective houses.
